

FUNDRAISING IDEAS —AT WORK!

Cake Walk	Ask team members to bake or donate cakes and host a cake walk at the office. For each entry, charge a donation.
Car Wash	Ask co-workers to host a car wash in your office complex or nearby shopping center. Make signs and advertise around your office.
Bake Sale	Sell cookies, donuts, bagels, popcorn, muffins, candy, etc. in exchange for a donation. For additional fun, ask employees to vote on the best item and award that employee a prize.
Drawing for Prizes	For a donation, co-workers are entered into a drawing to win prizes like casual days, prime parking spots, free lunch, gift certificates, etc.
Executive Dare	Once your team goal is set, challenge staff to reach it. If they can collectively reach the goal, ask a manager or CEO to perform a dare such as kissing a pig or dyeing their hair purple.
Lunch with the Boss	Employees who raise $100 or more are entered into a drawing for lunch with a top-level executive.
Miniature Golf Putting Contest	Set up putting greens around the office, charge a fee and offer prizes!
Penny Wars or Coin Wars	Set up jars representing different teams or departments. Employees can drop their spare dimes, nickels and pennies into the jar. Any quarters or paper currency dropped in the jar is subtracted from the total. Employees may "sabotage" another department's jar by dropping quarters or dollars into it. At the end of the campaign, both positive and negative coins are counted and the group with the most money wins a prize like a department pizza party.
Birthday Donations	Ask friends, family and co-workers to make a donation to your team in honor of your birthday (or the birthday of someone you are honoring). You could even host your own birthday party asking attendees to support your fundraising in lieu of a gift to you.
Bake-off/Cook-off	Find out which of your coworkers is a whiz in the kitchen. Organize a contest to see who makes the best baked goods, chili, sides or anything you like.
Personal Vending Machine at Work	Have you ever wondered how much money the vending machine at work clears in a single week? Find out! Purchase some of the office favorites in bulk (or better yet, have them donated) and sell them from your desk for $1 or $2.
